

MEDS® - The Medicaid Eligibility Decision System

Submit Medicaid Cases Electronically to NYC's Eligibility Data and Image Transfer System (EDITS)

RES Systems is proud to offer MEDS®, a robust electronic Medicaid application system that interfaces with EDITS, that replaces the paper flow between providers and the New York City Medical Assistance Program (MAP) with electronic transfer of data and images and electronic delivery of eligibility determinations. EDITS currently supports the processing of new MLTC applications and renewals, with conversions and other undercare transactions in plans to be supported in the future.

With MEDS®, not only can you create and submit the case electronically, but you can produce the forms and sign them electronically too. The system was designed from the worker's perspective and is simple and intuitive to use for anyone transitioning from the paper process. You will notice increased productivity the first day you start with MEDS®.

The Application Process

A tabbed interface allows for simple, organized data entry, and data validation ensures all entries are in the correct format. You can then create application and ancillary forms with pre-filled data with the touch of a button. Forms can even be electronically signed and "saved as image" for a completely paperless process. (Renewal forms need to be scanned in to preserve the bar code.)

Finally, scan in supporting documentation and the application is complete!

Reporting

MEDS® features an integrated reporting system that allows you to run customizable up-to-date application, statistical, and management reports. Many pre-configured reports are available as well. Reports can be printed or exported to Excel®.

Support

Our organization has extensive experience with electronic applications and Medicaid eligibility. In fact, RES President Lou Lista, the former Director of Systems for Medicaid, originated the concept of electronic applications with nursing homes in 1995. Our highly trained support staff is available each business day and can answer the most difficult of Medicaid eligibility questions.

Please contact Lou Lista at 516-480-9083 or lou@res.systems for more information or to schedule a demonstration.
